November is Financial Literacy Month. Each year the Financial Consumer Agency of Canada (FCAC) leads a national campaign that helps strengthen the financial literacy of individuals and build their financial resilience. Throughout the month, FCAC engages with Canadians and works together with organizations from the private, public and non-profit sectors to increase awareness of financial protections available to Canadians.

This year the theme is "Money on your Mind. Talk about it!"

To build awareness of the protections provided, a working group made up of representatives from Assuris, AMF, CDIC, CIPF, PACICC and Credit Union Prudential Supervisors Association (CUPSA) has uploaded the Collective Strength video developed last year to its new location on the Finance Protection website. This website was developed last year to showcase the range of financial protections provided by these Canadian organizations. Credit Union Deposit Guarantee Corporation of Saskatchewan is a member of CUPSA.
